- The education sessions make a great training tool and informational resource for your organization!
- The Special Price of $70.00 for on site conference attendees is a great value and will not be available after the Conference!

Here are the valuable educational sessions you will get on the CD-ROM:

Whistleblowers: What You Need to Know to Protect Your Agency

This program will present an overview of whistleblower incentives under the False Claims Act, discuss home care and hospice risk areas, whistleblowers' rights, steps a provider can take to deter potential whistleblowers, and recent whistleblower cases against the home care and hospice industry.

Faculty: Denise Bonn, Esq., Deputy Director, Center for Health Care Law, National Association for Home Care & Hospice, Washington, D.C.

Provider Enrollment: Are You Ready?

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services made major changes to the provider enrollment process last year that affect both new and existing home health agencies and hospices. This program will furnish clear guidance regarding WHAT and WHEN to file.

Faculty: Denise Bonn, Esq., Deputy Director, Center for Health Care Law, National Association for Home Care & Hospice, Washington, D.C.

MANAGED CARE: Identifying and Managing Emerging Patient Liability Risks

This program provides a journey into the issues involving managed care home care and potential liabilities.

How does this dynamic affect the home care provider's responsibilities for high quality and appropriate patient care? Are there new liability risks for malpractice or are the risks just a new model of the same risk?

Faculty: William A. Dombi, Esq., Director, Center for Health Care Law, Vice President for Law, National Association for Home Care & Hospice, Washington, D.C.

Patient Discrimination in Admission and Discharge: What Have We Learned?

Home care and hospice face similar environments with reimbursement systems that could encourage incentives relative to patient admission. Patient complaints and subsequent lawsuits have grown with accusations that providers are in violation of various civil rights laws such as the Americans with Disabilities Act in admission and discharge practices. This program covers the responsibilities of home care and hospice under those laws with a practical approach to compliance and risk management.

Faculty: William A. Dombi, Esq., Director, Center for Health Care Law, Vice President for Law, National Association for Home Care & Hospice, Washington, D.C.

HIRING and FIRING—Doing it Right the First Time!

Home care and hospice employers face employment law issues such as discriminatory employment actions, worker discipline, employee discharges, and employee leave time. This program provides an overview of state and federal employment laws that are implicated in hiring and firing decisions and offers practical recommendations on managing these legal responsibilities.

Faculty: Kathy Albarado, President and CEO, Helios HR, Reston, Va.; Karen Doner, JD, Partner, Williams Mullen, McLean, Va.
